

Teaching About Religion

Practitioners of our II member faith groups respond to questions on backgrounds, ethics, theology, practices, governance, and attitude towards the other.

The Symbols Supplement reflects on 53 worship symbols, the Values Supplement explains principle values and the Environment Supplement presents perspectives on the environment.

Unique Resources!

"If we care about the future of religious freedom, it is vitally important for public schools to teach about religions within the civic framework provided by the first amendment. The more we know about one another, the more likely we are to respect the rights of others."
